Profile Summary

As an IT Analyst at HCL Technologies in Nagpur, I am adept at VDI integration and design, deployment, Citrix Cloud migration, infrastructure setup on Google Cloud, and application infrastructure migration. With a proactive approach to learning and expanding my expertise, I excel in determining integration strategies for VDI images into the Beluga environment and architecting VDI solutions tailored to the Customer's GCP environment. I have successfully executed the deployment of chosen VDI solutions, collaborated with cross-functional teams, and migrated to Citrix Cloud Services while preparing Google Cloud to receive workloads. My proficiency extends to setting up Citrix zone and enterprise networking, IAM, and other crucial components on Google Cloud, as well as building Citrix Cloud resource locations. I have also collaborated effectively with application teams to ensure seamless application migration.
