PLCD — Product Database Lifecycle

- BOSCH PLCD (Product Lifecycle Database) is a platform to provide easy handling of the testing procedure in a product life cycle. Worked for different stakeholders for PLCD.
  PLCD Model is designed to store measurement data and results of experiments (like Endurance Testing , Pushbelt Testing , Quality Testing , BreakPad Testing etc.)
- Engineers and specialized employees use PLCD to plan the test and work with the measurement data.
- In this project there were multiple services handled by the team
  - EventPublisher : Reads and pushes events into broker
  - FullText : Stores and provides information for fast search in application.
  - MailJob : Sends emails when there is a change of status in the product lifecycle.
  - ReportService : Generates report about the Product and generates a PDF.

The intention is to transform the product into a solution for measurement data management to customers.
